

Congress Baffled How To Raise Additional Taxes

Some Mention Of Federal Retail Sales Tax, Also Compulsory Loans

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY
WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—One baffling question—how to raise an additional $16,000,000,000 this year for war purposes?—overshadowed all else on Capitol Hill today. Some prominent legislators mentioned a federal retail sales tax, combined with increased compulsory loans, as a possible answer.

Other developments in congress: 1. The senate foreign relations committee may call on Mayor La Guardia of New York for the background of a grand jury investigation into charges, later dropped, that New York City materials and labor were used to pave the courtyard of Edward J. Flynn's estate if the committee decides to hold hearings on Flynn's nomination to be minister to Australia. Nomination of the retiring Democratic national committee chairman aroused a storm of Republican protest, with Senator Bridges (R-NH) calling it an "insult" to Australia.

2. Agitation for an increase in the price ceilings on potatoes, beans and dairy products will confront Leon Henderson's successor as price administrator. President Roosevelt's nomination of former Senator Prentiss M. Brown of Michigan for the job is expected to receive speedy senate confirmation.

3. A special house committee on airplane accidents predicted in its final report that the peace-time future of aviation will be limitless, and urged appointment of standing committees to study its development.

4. A special senate committee, informed that the petroleum outlook is "gloomy," asked the mayors of New York, Boston and Bridgeport, Conn., for suggestions on improving fuel oil and gasoline rationing.

5. An investigation of the American Federation of Musicians' ban against making recordings for radio stations and "juke boxes" was reopened today with James C. Petrillo, head of the union, slated to testify before a senate subcommittee.

Tackle Problem Soon
Chairman Doughton (D-NC) said the house ways and means committee probably would tackle the revenue-raising problem within 10 days, exploring at the outset the possibilities of putting individual income taxes on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Fewer Tire Examinations

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The Office of Price Administration modified today its periodic tire inspection program by postponing the January 31 deadline for the first inspection, and providing for less frequent examinations.

The action was taken, OPA said, to minimize public inconvenience and to smooth out occasional work peaks for the inspectors.

A stagger system was put into effect so that there will be three different deadlines for the first inspection.

Under the revised program, all holders of basic gasoline ration A coupons will have until the end of March for their first tire inspection, and subsequent inspections will be once in each six months, instead of the former requirement of once every four months.

Motorists with B or C supplementary books or bulk coupons for fleets will be required to get their first inspections by the end of February. After that, inspections for B bookholders will be once in every four months, and for C bookholders and bulk coupon holders once every three months. Formerly the schedule called for examinations of cars with B and C ration once in two months.

In announcing the changes, Paul M. O'Leary, deputy OPA administrator in charge of rationing, said tire conservation now will depend more heavily upon voluntary co-operation by motorists.

O'Leary urged motorists not to wait for the deadlines but to have their tires inspected as soon as possible.

An announcement of a similar postponement on inspection of truck and commercial car tires was expected later today.

Sixth District Election Today

The Sixth Missouri Congressional district special election is being conducted today and the voters will choose between Democrat Sam M. Wear, Springfield attorney, and the son of the man Wear was defeated by in the last general election—28-year-old Marion T. Bennett, Republican.

The winner of this special election will fill the vacancy in Congress created by the death of Rep. Phil A. Bennett, who died last December 7 in Washington.

Voting in Sedalia and Pettis county has been extremely light up until mid-day. It is expected by political leaders the voting will be less than half the November election count. Much of this is contributed by the gasoline ration, many not desiring to use their gasoline to go to the polls.

In the last election candidate Wear lost to Rep. Bennett who sought re-election by a total of 7,789 votes. Wear polled 38,946 votes while Bennett's vote was 46,735. The district is comprised of Greene, Henry, Johnson, Pettis, Polk, St. Clair, Barton, Bates, Cass, Cedar and Vernon counties.

The results of the election in Pettis county are expected to be reported to the county clerk's office by 9 o'clock tonight.

Farmers Must Redouble Their Efforts

Must Supply Food To Civilians And Armed Forces

(Mobilization Day statement by Dean M. F. Miller, University of Missouri College of Agriculture, and Chairman of State Mobilization Day Committee)

Missouri farmers face forward in 1943 knowing that lives and vital military plans depend upon their success in increasing food production. They also realize that if they are to produce enough to reach the higher food goals they will need to redouble their efforts and to leave no stone unturned.

Even though last year's favorable weather helped them greatly they know that this year they can hardly expect more than an average growing season and they are fully aware of shortages in labor, equipment, and transportation.

Every day brings reports of sharper demands from African, Russian, and other battlefields for more food from this hemisphere. Civilians, although already sacrificing and exerting further food cuts, will need to be supplied with enough food. These needs emphasize the fact that farmers are as important as armament makers in this war.

With the labor situation already critical, many farm boys are being called to our armed forces. (Please turn to page 4 column 3)

OPA Freezes Corn Prices

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—The Office of Price Administration today froze maximum corn prices on all exchanges and in every cash and local market over the country so as to maintain present "favorable ratios" between the price of corn on one hand and the price of livestock, poultry and eggs on the other.

The action, taken to halt further sharp advances in corn prices, was in form of a temporary price ceiling effective tomorrow which will be followed by a permanent price regulation which will not permit any increase in the general level of corn prices.

The maximum prices, the OPA said, will be generally those at which sales were made yesterday. Under the freeze of maximum prices, however, declines in market prices could take place.

The OPA said that Stabilization Director James F. Byrnes instructed it to apply the ceiling to corn, previously uncontrolled at all levels, and that Secretary of Agriculture Wickard had approved the action.

Prices of corn futures contracts and prices for cash corn in the recognized cash markets were frozen at the highest level of prices prevailing during the period January 8-12. In most instances, these highs were reached yesterday.

Corn prices at the small local markets were frozen at the highest level of prices prevailing yesterday.

Five Sullivan Brothers Reported Missing In Action

WATERLOO, Ia., Jan. 12.—(AP)—The five Sullivan brothers, who enlisted in the navy together shortly after Pearl Harbor intent on avenging a pal killed in the sneak attack, are missing in action the navy informed their parents today.

The brothers served on the cruiser Juneau, which a navy communique last night disclosed was lost in the battle around the Solomon islands during November.

The brothers were George T., 29, Francis H., 26, Joseph E., 23, Madison A., 22, and Albert L., 20.

Their father, Thos. F. Sullivan, is a railroad conductor.

State Council Advocated In New House Bill

Eleven House Bills In Hopper On First Day

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 12.—(P)—A bill to create a state legislative council was introduced in the house today by Rep. O. K. Armstrong (R) Greene county.

It was among 11 measures tossed into the hopper on the first day for introduction of house bills.

The proposed council—similar, Armstrong said, to those used in Kansas and several other states—would be composed of six representatives and five senators, serving without pay except for actual expenses.

They would be aided by a full-time director, a research expert and a legal consultant, each of whom could be paid up to $3,600 a year.

The council would be directed to "investigate the possibilities of state and local government reforms," and to assist legislators in drafting new measures.

"This is a greatly needed step," Armstrong said. "The council would be of continuing service to the state throughout the year without being limited to the period of legislative sessions."

Armstrong also introduced a bill to move the primary election date from August to the first Tuesday following the first Monday in September. The day after Labor day.

Shorten Campaign
"This date would find more voters at home and would also shorten the general election campaign," he said.

Among other measures introduced were:

By Rep. R. H. Ridenhour (R) Osage county requiring a three-day waiting period after application before issuance of marriage licenses.

By Rep. J. S. Wallace (D) Scott county, to create a Negro agricultural and industrial school in south Missouri.

By Wallace putting a tax ranging from $25 to $500 on chain stores.

The fast-moving house opened its bill hopper today, a full two weeks ahead of the normal pace. The house also got a quick jump on the state's financial problems, with nine temporary fund measures introduced yesterday to carry state agencies through the first half of this year while the assembly works on permanent bills for the full 1943-44 biennium.

"Prompt passage" of the temporary acts was urged by Speaker Howard Elliott (R), St. Louis (Please turn to page 4, Col. 2)

Clark Bill Pay-As-You-Go

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(AP)—A "pay-as-you-go" income tax measure, along the lines of the Beardsley Ruml plan, has been introduced ($280) by Senator Clark (D-Mo.).

Clark was chairman of a finance subcommittee which endorsed the principal features of the plan advocated before the full committee last summer by Ruml, chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Under Clark's bill, all individual income tax payments would be applied on current year's income, with taxes on the previous year's income forgiven, as advocated by Ruml, and tax payments would be withheld at the source, as the employer now withholds victory tax payments.

The bill would add the present basic tax of 19 per cent to the five per cent victory tax for a total of 24 per cent, to simplify bookkeeping procedure. Persons in the higher income brackets would have to pay additional taxes above the 24 per cent.

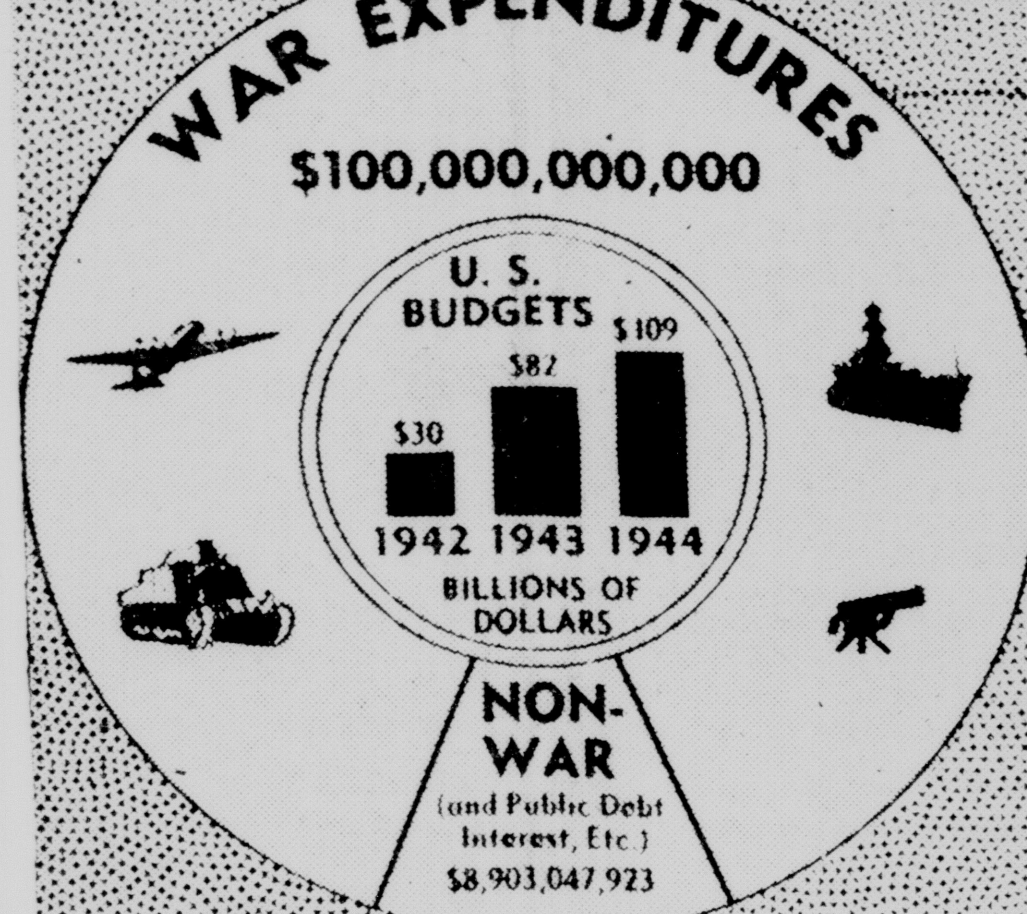

Senator Reed (R-Kas) introduced a bill (S237) providing that the 40-hour work week established by the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 be extended to 48 hours.

Another bill by Reed (S235) would make it unlawful to require membership in a labor, religious, civic, political or fraternal organization as a condition of employment for work in the service of the federal government.

General Tojo Calls For Greater Production Of War Materials

BY GLENN BABB
New evidence comes from Tokyo that General Tojo and his colleagues are struggling against the soul-chilling realization that Japan is losing the battle of production, a contest in which the fanatical fighting code of the Samurai is of little avail. Once more they have invoked the awful prestige of the emperor in an appeal to war workers to increase output. The Tokyo radio announced that within a few days aides-de-camp invested with special powers will begin a series of tours of the chief industrial areas to make the workers feel that the son of heaven is watching them. Now this may strike Americans as absurd, but it has a serious bearing on the course of the war. Invocation of the imperial prestige is something not undertaken lightly by a Japanese government, and this is the fourth time within a few weeks that the people have been given assurance of the emperor's concern over the way the war is going. Early in December Hirohito made a solemn pilgrimage to the sun goddess' shrine at Ise to pray for her aid. A few days later he received in audience 380 leaders of the empire's industry and economic interests. Only last week he watched a parade of war workers during the annual new year imperial military review.

Reaction To Message
Today's announcement very likely is the high command's reaction to President Roosevelt's message to Congress of last Thursday, especially those crushing figures of 1942 war production, probably tenfold Japan's capacity in the most vital categories. Take for example the item of ships. We launched 8,090,000 tons in 1942 and are just getting into the stride that will produce double that tremendous tonnage in 1943. Now Japan needs ships as badly as we do, for without them she can not hope to hold the riches of the Indies for which she took the

Two Money-Raising Campaigns Approved
WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(P)—President Roosevelt approved today a plan for two major money-raising campaigns for relief activities this year, one in March by the American Red Cross and the other in October for "A National War Fund."

The latter will replace the various individual campaigns for the United Service Organizations, Community Chest Council, those of certain state war chest organizations and the drive of major foreign relief agencies.

The formula for the two campaigns was presented in a report of the War Relief Control Board of which Joseph E. Davies, former ambassador to Russia and to Belgium, is chairman.

Fighting French Take Libyan Capital, Also Many Prisoners

LONDON, Jan. 12.—(P)—Fighting French headquarters announced today that General Jacques Leclerc's army of the Chard had captured Murzuk, capital of the Fezzan district of Southern Libya, and that advance units also had occupied Sebha, 100 miles further north.

Today's Italian communique said that "overwhelming enemy forces compelled our troops to retreat" in the Fezzan area, adding that a "pre-arranged new disposition" of our garrison in the territories of Southern Libya is continuing.

The Fighting French communique said that almost the entire garrisons of both points were taken prisoner.

Two Are Held Charged With Fur Robbery

Taken Into Custody Shortly After Burglary Is Known

The Mindell Hides, Wool and the ball park at Liberty grounds were inspected today by Joe Mathes, scout for the St. Louis Cardinals baseball club, and Wednesday they will undergo another inspection by William "Bill" De Witt, general manager, Luke Seely, playing manager, and Anthony Buford, director of the St. Louis Browns. The purpose is to determine the possibilities of Sedalia as the spring training camp for either, or both baseball clubs.

Mr. Mathes was well pleased with the Coliseum at the fair grounds for indoor training, and other buildings for workouts. He also made favorable comment on the ball grounds at Liberty park, with the exception of the fact hot water is lacking for showers. The latter problem will no doubt be taken care of by Sedalians if the equipment necessary can be obtained.

This afternoon Charles Van Dyne, president of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, and Ernest W. Baker, secretary of the Missouri State Fair spent considerable time discussing the proposition with Mr. Mathes. He said however that he was making only an inspection and would report his findings to the officials of the Red Birds, who would later contact the Sedalians, should they decide to come here.

He is also making visits to several other cities that have invited the world champions for spring training. Other scouts are also out looking over probable sites.

Furs Lost In Chase
Coughig, Hilton, and H. L. Scott went to the Colein home, where, according to the officers' report, they saw Clark run out the back door. Scott followed, and most of the missing furs were dropped by Clark in the chase, according to the officers. Clark made his getaway then. Colein was taken in custody and one fur found in his place.

Officers L. E. Pauley and Cecil H. Smith were sent to watch the Clark home, and when Clark arrived with a brother-in-law, Omer Greer, of 1114 East Seventh street, he was arrested. Clark had gone to the Greer home and asked his brother-in-law to take him home, officers learned.

Questioned at headquarters by L. J. Harned, prosecuting attorney who was called from his home, and officers, the men at first denied knowing anything about the missing furs, insisting they had trapped the animals.

Furs Reported Taken
Mr. Mindell reported to the officers that sixteen red fox, 1 gray fox, five coon, 10 muskrat, and five mink furs were missing. The officers recovered fourteen red fox, 1 gray fox, and five coon furs.

According to Mr. Mindell the three mink furs were taken sometime Monday, prior to the robbery Monday night. They were valued at $25.

Equal Footing
Leaders Satisfied
With Terms Of
New Treaties Signed

CHUNGKING, Jan. 12.—(P)—China's legitimate diplomatic aspirations, generally speaking, have been satisfied by the treaties signed yesterday with the United States and Great Britain abolishing extraterritorial rights, and China can now go to the peace conference on an equal footing with her allies, Foreign Minister T. V. Soong told a press conference today.

Discussing the treaty with Great Britain, Soong said China had raised the question of the status of the Kowloon leased territory, which is part of the Hongkong area, but that the British government was not prepared to discuss the question at present and consequently China reserved the right to revive the matter later.

The question of the status of Hongkong itself, a British Crown colony now under Japanese occupation, was not raised, Soong said.

Soong predicted that other countries with extra-territorial rights in China would follow the example of the United States and Great Britain in relinquishing them.

Asked about France, one of the countries enjoying these rights, Soong replied:

No French Government
"The question of French rights in China has no realistic importance. There is no French government to negotiate with."

Soong paid tribute to the parts played by U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull and British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden toward conclusion of the new treaties.

"Both proved warm in their sympathies and deep in their understanding of China's aspirations," Soong said.

With men of such caliber in charge of the foreign policies of Britain and the United States Soong said, the prospects were enhanced for a solution of post-war problems.

Soong revealed that the allies have been informally sounding out each other's post war problems.

According to the notice the state headquarters indicated heavy calls would be made in February, March, April, and May. No figures for the months following February were indicated.

To date the largest call the Pettis county board has had and fulfilled, was that of August, when 284 men left Sedalia.

Members of the board are today holding their regular weekly meeting examining registrants and making reclassifications.

Red Cross Corner

Despite the war, the children of Pettis county joined millions of other American children to play Santa Claus to children of other nations this Christmas.

Junior Red Cross members of Pettis county packed a large number of Christmas boxes, which with those from other chapters went to the children of Great Britain, Ireland, Greenland, Iceland, Alaska, and eleven Central and South American countries. Each box contained toys, candy and such practical gifts as soap and toothbrushes, scarce in many countries. One hundred thousand Christmas gift boxes were packed and shipped by members of the American Junior Red Cross throughout the nation.

St. Paul—Business firms here have donated a doughnut machine to the Red Cross Union Depot Canteen, with which workers can make from 700 to 900 doughnuts a day for servicemen.

Baltimore—Labor unions here have pledged to "underwrite" the quota of the Red Cross Blood Donor Center. In any week when the appointment book at the center is not filled, the unions will supply enough additional volunteers to fill it.

Washington, D. C.—Christmas dinners, complete with turkey pies, were arranged for American prisoners of war in Camp Woon-sung near Shanghai with American Red Cross funds, according to Edouard Egle, International Red Cross delegate in Shanghai. Fifteen hundred American military prisoners and civilian internees are held in this camp. Mr. Egle reports that prisoners are supplied with warm sweat shirts, socks, winter caps, and gloves from American Red Cross funds. Stoves were to be sent to the camp for heating the barracks. Foodstuffs such as bread, smoked sausage, noodles, fresh fruit, and beef extract, as well as medicines, toothbrushes, dental powder, soap, and towels are delivered there regularly. Since last spring the American Red Cross has made every effort to send aid to the Philippines where the largest number of American prisoners of war are interned, but thus far the Japanese have not agreed to the appointment of a neutral delegate of the International Red Cross in the Philippines and have refused to guarantee safe passage for a relief supply ship. A week before Christmas 13,646 cases containing 500 tons of Red Cross food, clothing, and medical supplies left Hong Kong and Yokohama for the Philippines, for distribution to American military and civilian prisoners. These supplies were shipped from the United States on the diplomatic exchange vessel S. S. Gripsholm, last June.

Society and Clubs

"The place of books in this war is new and unique," Miss Nettie Lamm of the public library staff, said Monday afternoon in a talk on "Books in Wartime" on the Book Day program at the Sorosis meeting at the Heard Memorial clubhouse.

"Peoples have been stirred to war by ideas. Ideas come from books and make books," she continued.

The most powerful, dangerous and active of all books in our time is Hitler's "Mein Kampf," Miss Lamm declared. "We are fighting his deadly ideas now abroad and at home."

In a warning statement Miss Lamm said, "The American who goes through this war period without opening his mind to the world of ideas—books—is likely to be fodder for the stupid or ill-willed men who, after the war, will quite surely try again to establish some greedy, prejudiced, short-sighted order of settlement which will inevitably, as before, lead to another war."

Three recent books which she has enjoyed were concisely reviewed by Miss Etta Hurley. The first, "Windswept," by Mary Ellen Chase, was termed the most ambitious that Miss Chase has written.

Miss Hurley found "Mrs. Appleby's Year," a month-by-month account of a family's activities, particularly appealing and she mentioned the clever, barbed observations that add to the entertainment to be derived from the book, which was written by Louise Andrews Kent.

The vow of a Jewish refugee from Germany to write the story of the lady of Loudres brought about one of the finest current contributions to the world's literature, Franz Werfel's "Song of Bernadette," which Miss Hurley reviewed with feeling.

Explaining why she likes these three books Miss Hurley said that they give "a comforting sense of permanence that one day follows another, come what may—good days follow the bad—and we shall again see blue birds fly over the White Cliffs of Dover."

Brief comments on outstanding recently published books of various types were given by Mrs. Sylvain Kahn who included in her list:

"Berlin Diary"—William Shirer.

"Education for Death"—Gregor Zeimer.

"Victory Through Air Power"—Major Alexander de Seversky.

"They Were Expendable"—William L. White.

"The Moon is Down"—John Steinbeck.

"Doctors of the Mind"—Marie Bynon Ray.

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay"—Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough.

"See Here, Private Hargrove"—Marion Hargrove.

"The Problems of Lasting Peace"—Herbert Hoover and Hugh Gibson.

"The Last Time I Saw Paris"—Elliot Paul.

Mrs. V. V. Tullis, chairman of the History and Literature department, presented the speakers of the afternoon.

During the business meeting, presided over by Mrs. C. F. Appel, Miss Lamm announced that Sorosis' sale of war bonds and stamps at Flower's last Saturday totaled $583.60, an exceptionally commendable figure for one day's sale.

Mrs. Sadie Baker entertained with a dinner Sunday at her home, 225 South Kentucky avenue, in honor of her son, Pvt. William F. Baker of Fort Meade, Md., who is home on furlough.

Those present were: Mrs. Hattie Cramer and daughter, Betty of Jefferson City, W. R. Thomas and Mrs. Mildred Kelley of Kansas City, Mrs. W. C. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. John Straube, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Thomas and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Richards of Boonville, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schwenk and daughter, Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Lane of Sedalia.

Private Baker left Monday for Fort Meade to resume his duties there.

'Jeep' May Have Joined Soldiers

"Jeep", pet Scottie of Daisy Carol Paschall 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Paschall, 606 South Grand avenue, may have joined the armed forces over the week end. "Jeep" disappeared last Friday night and several persons have said they noticed a dog answering his description following some soldiers from the Sedalia Army Air Field.

"Jeep", an all-black Scottie, is seven and a half months old and bears the war-considered full name of "Jeep Blackout Paschall."

Daisy Carol, who is in the fifth grade at Mark Twain school, is anxious to do her part in the war effort but she feels "Jeep" is too young to join the army and would like very much to have the dog back home where he can greet her when she returns from school.

The dog was last seen in the Paschalls yard of the home and just where he may have wandered to remains a mystery, unless he has made a visit to the army air field.

Oath Given To Roy D. Miller

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 12—(P)—Roy D. Miller, Columbia Republican, was sworn in as a member of the state senate Monday, evenly dividing the Republican and Democratic membership, 17 to 17.

Miller won a special election last week over D. Oty Groce of Warrenton to succeed the late W. B. Whitlow, Fulton Democrat, in the tenth district. He had to wait for official certification of the result before taking his seat.

The Democrats still will retain control of the senate on most issues, since the attorney general has ruled that Lieut. Gov. Frank G. Harris, a Democrat who presides over the senate, may cast the deciding vote to break ties except on passage of a bill.

The senate met today only in perfunctory session, marking time until a report of the rules committee clears the way for president pro tem Frank Briggs (D), Macon, to appoint other committees and set legislative procedure rolling.

Care for my Car for my Country?

Sonny, what you do to your car is your business, although chances are you won't be able to get another while the war is on.

But what your daddy does to his car is the nation's business!

The American way of life is geared to the motor car. Every automobile is a vital part of our country's transportation system. It takes the war-worker to his job, transports munitions, and carries civilians in their many essential travels which form the basic pattern of U. S. business.

Every car that is laid up for whatever reason places an additional burden on the already overtaxed railroad, street car, and bus systems. That is why cars and tires must be used wisely, must be preserved to play their part in holding war production at maximum.

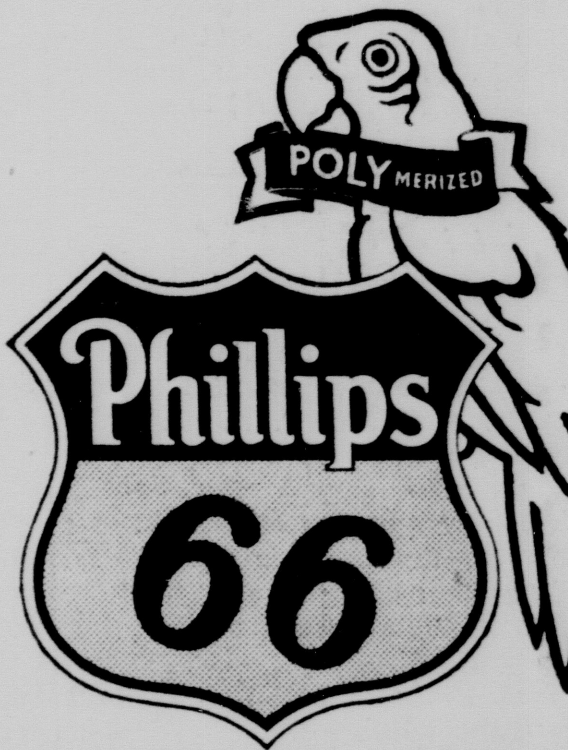

Your Phillips 66 Service Man is pledged to help you Care For Your Car . . . For Your Country. And though you drive less miles, don't make the mistake of assuming that your car needs less care.

Reduced driving may actually increase crankcase dilution of oil by unburned fuel . . . may increase sludge because of added condensation of moisture. Both greatly reduce the motor protection and lubricating efficiency of your oil.

Your battery, with charging time cut down, will need more frequent inspection. And spark plugs must be scientifically adjusted to prevent waste of fuel.

Remember, every Phillips 66 Service Man is specially trained to make your car and your tires last longer and go farther. Enlist his aid, when you stop at any Orange and Black 66 Shield for Phillips 66 Poly Gas, famous for fast starting pep and extra mileage . . . and Phillips 66 Motor Oil, 100% paraffin base.

Politicians Interested In Judgeship

Scramble For This New Federal Job

By HENRY B. JAMESON

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 12.—(P)—The appointment of a new roving federal judge in Missouri has stirred up another political hornet's nest.

There's always a scramble for a new federal job but seldom has a judgeship appointment attracted such wide public interest. The post—recommended for the eastern Missouri district by the circuit judge's conference because of the heavy court load in this area—was created as one of the last acts of the last congress.

But the original bill was amended in the senate to provide for a judge to divide his time between both the eastern and western districts.

This aroused considerable opposition, especially in this half of the state, but nothing to compare with the shouts of protest when Senator Harry S. Truman announced he would recommend a western Missouri lawyer for the position. Truman was credited by most observers with having engineered the amended "roving" bill through its final passage. The state already has one roving jurist in Federal Judge John Caskey Collet.

Many Possible Appointees

The names of several prominent attorneys have been injected into the list of possible appointees. But the two which seem to stand out as the most likely choices are Rubey Hulen of Columbia, and Harry C. Blanton of St. Louis. Blanton is a native of Sikeston but for the past several years he has held the office of United States district attorney for eastern Missouri.

While Blanton apparently stands ace-high with all Democratic factions, most political observers here are of the opinion Senators Truman and Bennett Champ Clark will agree on Hulen. They pointed out that Hulen successfully managed Senator Clark's campaign in 1938, and that Clark comes up for re-election next year. Hulen reportedly has a strong political following in rural areas.

Senator Clark so far has not committed himself publicly on the judgeship.

Blanton Mentioned

The St. Louis Bar Association and the Lawyer's Association of the eighth district have gone on record as advocating appointment of an eastern Missouri man. Some Democratic leaders and many rural newspapers in eastern Missouri have taken similar positions, with Blanton being shoved to the foremost as the most likely choice.

The Tenth Judicial District Bar Association at Hannibal indorsed Blanton.

It has been suggested that Truman's insistence on a western district man might stem from the fact that the two present federal judges in that district are Republicans—Merrill E. Otis and Albert L. Reeves. Both have declared another judge is not needed in their district.

Another Appointment

Another thing entering the picture is a collector of customs vacancy which, one observer pointed out, might be used if the judgeship narrows down to bargaining between the two districts. This $6,000-a-year plum falls to Clark's dispensation for the eastern district, although the customs district embraces all of Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and part of Illinois. The salary of a federal judge is $10,000 a year.

Two other men who have been mentioned as possible choices are Congressman C. Jasper Bell of Kansas City and Congressman Richard W. Duncan of St. Joseph, who was defeated in November. But they are considered constitutionally ineligible because they were members of the congress which created the judgeship position.

Also mentioned for the job are United States District Attorney Maurice Milligan of Kansas City, William E. Kemp, city counselor of Kansas City, and Circuit Judge Alfred Ridge of Kansas City.

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Jan. 12

—(P)—The Butler County Bar Association, in session here, today endorsed Harry C. Blanton for federal judge in Missouri and then urged appointment of Herbert H. Freer, St. Louis, and formerly of Poplar Bluff, to succeed Blanton.

State Council Advocated In New House Bill

Social Security Bill

The Social Security bill introduced by Rep. C. P. Jung (R), Benton county, the new appropriations chairman, provides enough money to keep the oldsters' monthly pension checks at their recently restored full rate of about $19 a month.

Its $9,475,000 total for six months includes: $6,100,000 for pensions; $1,125,000 for aid to dependent children; $1,500,000 for direct relief; and $750,000 for administration.

Most of the other six-months bills were merely set at one-fourth of last biennium's allotments, thus permitting the same spending rate as in 1941-42.

In drawing up the full two-year budget, the new appropriations committee was exhorted by Speaker Elliott to balance the budget "on presently anticipated revenue"—in other words, without new taxes.

His statement added fuel to the anti-tax hike movement which has been developing in the legislature ever since it was learned Gov. Forrest C. Donnell was considering the possibility of recommending a three-cent sales tax.

The F. B. I. representative will hold classes on types of identifications, lecture on the policies of the F. B. I. and how the patrol can be of assistance to the federal organization.

Sedalian On Vox Pop Program

A former young Sedalian, Capt. Ford Allcorn, who has seen action in North Africa in the United States Army Air Corps, was heard Monday night on the Vox Pop radio program. This is the second time recently that Capt. Allcorn has broadcast. He was on the 1942 Review on Mutual, New Year's Eve.

Capt. Allcorn is the son of the late Charlie Allcorn and Mrs. Helen Friske of Booneville. He spent several years of early childhood in Sedalia and was married here to a Sedalia girl, Miss Lucile Ryndard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Ryndard, 613 North Prospect avenue, several years ago. When Capt. Allcorn enlisted they were residing in Booneville.

Capt. Allcorn received his training at Fort Sill, Okla., and was sent to North Africa, where he spent six weeks. He was wounded, five bullets striking his leg, breaking it. On November 28 he arrived back in the United States and is now in the Walter Reed hospital in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Allcorn, upon receiving word of his return to the States went immediately to Washington where she has been with him since that time.

Capt. Allcorn told very vividly of some of his experiences in North Africa and said he saw no reason why the allied forces could not be victorious there. He was presented with a movie camera and case, and his wife, who was in the audience, also received as a gift, a beautiful alligator bag. Capt. Allcorn said that he expected to return to duty when he had recovered from his injury, as an instructor.

gamble of war against the United States. But with her shipyards mobilized to the utmost she can not hope to produce in a year more than one-tenth the American output for last year and by the end of this year the proportion will be nearer 20 to 1.

Masses May Not Know

Probably the Japanese masses are not permitted to know the truth about American production. Enough for them to know that the emperor calls on them for greater effort in their grim factories, where the work week already is around 70 hours. But their leaders know all about those tremendous figures recited by the president and they probably are convinced by one of their truth. When Mr. Roosevelt set America's production goals a year ago the Japanese joined the axis chorus of jibes against such fantastic figures. It is not that the Tokyo militarists underestimated the industrial potential of the United States; they had spent years studying it and they were fully aware of the fact, to take one example, that the steel producing capacity of Japan was less than a tenth of America's. But they hoped, and gambled on that hope, that the soft, loose American democracy never would be able to mobilize its full productive capacity for war or that even if that were accomplished that something would occur to soften our resolve before the fruits of that capacity could be brought to bear directly on the Pacific battlefronts. By now they have the testimony of such witnesses as Admiral Nomura, who was here until last June, that the dreaded miracle is happening.

Tojo Is Worried

The frequent calls on the emperor show that Tojo and his fellows are fully as worried about the home front—perhaps more so—than about the loss of their New Guinea footholds, the steady growth of American power in the Solomons or the British invasion of Burma, the three points on the rim of their co-prosperity sphere where the rising striking power of the United Nations is making itself felt.

The recent ruling on deferment of vital farm workers will help this situation but many farm youths still want to join, believing that they will do more for their country if in uniform. If the federal government will realize this of recognition which will give such boys a feeling of doing their patriotic duty on farms, where they are best trained to do so, more of these boys will remain on the farms to contribute their labor and skill.

No Equipment Available

Farmers seeking to find a way to overcome the labor shortage have turned to the possibility of buying new labor-saving equipment, only to find that for this year's needs there is being allocated only approximately 20 percent of the amount manufactured in 1941. At this time, only about 1/2 of 1 percent of the steel being produced is going into farm machinery. A recent small increase in the allocation of steel for such purposes may have come too late to benefit the farmer this year.

Since nearly every Missouri farmer feeds livestock or poultry, the shortage of the valuable protein supplement feeds has been another handicap. Orders for such materials are much ahead of supplies. Transportation difficulties also have handicapped some farmers in getting food and materials.

Cooperation such as probably never existed here in this country is needed to meet the agricultural situation, present and forthcoming. Help is wanted from town people and organizations in securing high school youth to work on farms, and in actually providing their own labor during rush seasons. Federal and state agencies and associations need to do everything possible to assist farmers. Farmers themselves should exchange freely their services and their equipment. They will often need to form labor crews with neighbors to do certain tasks.

All the things mentioned and many more will be required if the food basket of the country is kept refilled.

Mrs. Frank Kiewewetter was elected secretary of the group.

Participating in community activities, particularly in war effort projects, was the principal matter of discussion and plans were made to assist in every way possible.

Asks Suffrage For Teen Age

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 12.—(P)—Asserting society should make "acknowledgement of its debt to these young men and young women," Gov. Homer M. Adkins asked the Arkansas legislature this afternoon to extend suffrage rights to 18 and 19-year olds.

The proposal was made in the governor's second inaugural address. The general assembly opened its biennial 60-day session yesterday.

"We should grant young men and young women 18 and 19 years of age the right to vote," said Adkins. "Since these young men and young women have been called to the army and navy in the world's greatest and most drastic war, it is only right and just that society make acknowledgement of its debt."

Minimum voting age in Arkansas for both sexes now is 21.

The governor also asked a constitutional amendment substituting a four-year term for the present two-year gubernatorial tenure with the provision a governor could not succeed himself.

A proposal that the state take over operation of wholesale liquor outlets drew Adkins' disapproval. Himself a World War veteran, the governor proposed that Arkansas authorize award of service medals and ribbons to its veterans of all wars.

Congress Baffled How To Raise Additional Taxes

(Continued from page one) wartime budget to congress yesterday, recommended that taxes and compulsory loans to the government be increased to cover half the outlay, meaning another $16,000,000,000 be added to the estimated yield of $33,081,245,000 under present law.

Doughton emphasized the President had not asked that all the additional money be raised through taxes, or even the greater part of it. He told newspapermen that "if a considerable amount" had to be collected by new taxes, "it would appear to me we would have to explore the possibilities of national lotteries."

Not Reasonably Possible

He expressed the opinion it was "not reasonably possible to raise an additional $16,000,000,000 this year solely by taxes."

Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the senate finance committee said the new billions probably would have to be obtained primarily through enforced loans to the government, refunded to the contributors after the war. The loans might be obtained by increasing the 5 per cent victory tax on wages and salaries, he said.

China Now On Equal Footing

Continued from page one. lems but that no positive understandings have been reached. He declared that President Roosevelt's recent message to congress "was received with enthusiasm by the peoples of Asia."

"More than ever, Mr. Roosevelt is the chief spokesman of the United Nations," Soong said. "For China, the most significant part of his speech was his recognition that the peace aims of China are closely akin to those of the United States."

He refused to comment on the President's statement that as great a quantity of lend-lease materials was now reaching China by air as ever reached it over the Burma road, now occupied by the Japanese.

"This statement was on a military matter which I feel I should not discuss with you," Soong said. He declared the recent declaration of war on the allies by the Japanese-puppet government at Nanking headed by Wang Ching-wei was a ludicrous, farcical, quibbling performance not meriting serious consideration.

Soong confirmed reports that he would return to the United States but said he did not know at what date.

Reaction of the Chinese press to the new treaties was generally enthusiastic, though there were minor reservations.

Announce List Americans Killed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(P)—The names of 364 American soldiers killed in action on four fronts were announced Monday by the War Department.

In the list were men from 42 states and Alaska, and it included casualties in the Southwest Pacific, South Pacific, African and European combat zones.

Among those listed were 17 officers and 217 enlisted men killed in Africa, 3 officers and 9 enlisted men in the European theater, 1 officer and 7 enlisted men in the Southwest Pacific, and 8 officers and 102 enlisted men in the Southwest Pacific.

The navy reported last night that 3,211 merchant marine casualties had been reported to next of kin from Sept. 27, 1941, to Dec. 21, 1942, of whom 491 were dead and 2,720 missing.

U. S. Aircraft Carrier Sunk Oct. 26, Hornet

Three Cruisers; Seven Destroyers Lost In Battle

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(P)—The navy announced Monday night that the 20,000-ton Hornet was the American aircraft carrier sunk in the battle of the Santa Cruz Islands last October 26, and identified at the same time three cruisers and seven destroyers which had heretofore been reported sunk but not identified.

Other Vessels Down

The other vessels named as lost and their commanders are:

The Northampton, heavy cruiser, Captain Willard A. Kitts, 3rd, of Oswego, N. Y. He is safe.

The Juneau, 6,000-ton light cruiser, Captain Lyman Knute Swenson, of 333 East Fourth North street, Provo, Utah. He is missing.

The Atlanta, 6,000-ton sister ship of the Juneau, Captain Samuel Pover Jenkins, of 1145 21st street, San Diego, Calif. He is safe.

The Monssen, 1,630-ton destroyer, Lieutenant Commander Charles Edward McCombs, of 633 Hanover street, Martins Ferry, Ohio. He is safe.

The Cushing, 1,465-ton destroyer, Lieutenant Commander Edward N. Parker of 58 East Curtin street, Bellefonte, Pa. He is safe.

The Benham, 1,500-ton destroyer, Lieutenant Commander John Barrett Taylor, of Churchill, Bucks County, Pa. He is safe.

The Preston, 1,480-ton destroyer Commander Max C. Stormes, of 4195 Harden Way, San Diego, Calif. He is missing.

The Walke, 1,750-ton destroyer, Commander Thomas Edward Fraser, of 1901 Walnut street, Philadelphia, Pa. He is missing.

The Barton, 1,700-ton destroyer, Lieut. Commander Douglas Harold Fox, of 201 Spruce street, Dowagiac, Mich. He is missing.

The Laffey, 1,700-ton destroyer, Lieutenant Commander William Edwin Hank, of 232 West 34th street, Norfolk, Va. He is missing.

Names Been Withheld

The navy announcement of the loss of the Hornet was made in a communique which said that the names of that and the other ships had been withheld "for reasons of military security and to avoid causing needless anxiety on the part of relatives and friends of the personnel who survived these actions."

"Reports of casualties have since been received, and the next of kin of all personnel killed, wounded or missing in these actions have now been notified."

The navy said that Rear Admiral Charles P. Mason of Pensacola, Fla., was commander of the Hornet and that he is safe.

The battle in which the Hornet was lost was a costly one for the Japanese. The only other American ship lost in the action was the destroyer Porter. The Japanese, on the other hand, suffered two aircraft carriers heavily damaged, a battleship damaged, and damage also to five cruisers.

The name of the Porter had previously been disclosed and no reference was made to that ship in tonight's communique.

The cruisers Juneau and Atlanta, which were practically new ships, having been commissioned in 1942 and 1941, respectively, were lost during the great mid-November battle of Guadalcanal in which the Japanese were defeated with extremely heavy losses in their greatest attempt to reconquer the strategic island from which the battle takes its name.

The seven destroyers also were lost in that furious night engagement.

The Northampton was sunk by enemy action during an engagement north of Guadalcanal on the night of November 30-December 1. Some other American ships were damaged, but the Northampton was the only one reported sunk. The Japanese lost in that engagement two large destroyers or cruisers, four destroyers, two troop transports and one cargo ship—all sunk.

The loss of the Hornet reduces the group of seven aircraft carriers with which the United States started the war on December 7, 1941, to three ships still afloat. The other carrier were the Lexington in the battle of the Coral sea, the Yorktown at Midway, and the Wasp in the Solomon campaign.

Remaining Carriers

The three remaining ships of the original seven are the Enterprise, the Saratoga and the Ranger.

The Hornet, like most of the other carriers the navy has lost in action, did not go down immediately, but was only severely damaged while in contact with the enemy. She sank subsequent to the actual attack by enemy planes.

The communique issued on October 31, which merely reported the sinking of an unidentified carrier, said that the vessel was twice attacked by enemy bombers and torpedo planes near the Santa Cruz Islands. The first attack occurred during the forenoon and caused heavy damage, but the carrier was taken in tow by another ship in an attempt to salvage her. In the afternoon, she was attacked a second time and damaged below the waterline so that she began to list. Shortly afterward, personnel were removed from the vessel and the carrier later went down.

The Hornet had a normal complement, including flying personnel, of 2,170 men. The navy gave no estimates of personnel losses in its communique tonight, but in the earlier communique saying that the vessel had been sunk, it was stated that casualties on the Hornet were light.

The carrier, built at the Newport News shipbuilding and dry-docks company, Newport News, Va., was launched on December 14, 1940 and placed in commission in October, 1941. It was 770 feet long and normally carried 81 to 85 aircraft.

Deny Jennings A New Trial

A motion for a new trial filed in the case of the state versus "Jum" Jennings, Negro, charged with robbery, was overruled by Judge Dimmitt Hoffman of the Pettis county circuit court and Jennings was sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary, in accordance with a jury verdict rendered in the October term of court.

Fred F. Wesner was attorney for the plaintiff.

The circuit court jury on October 28 found Jennings guilty of taking $5.60 from Frank Mann of Warrensburg during fair week, and recommended a five year sentence in the state penitentiary at Jefferson City.

Auto Burns On Highway No. 65

Monday night about 8:45 o'clock a report was made to the police that an automobile was afire on 65 highway about a mile north of Sedalia. Deputy Sheriff Archie Smith was advised of the report and made a trip there finding the 1939 Pontiac coach owned by Lawrence Keele, of 1904 South Prospect, in flames. Mr. Keele, who left the car parked near the Keele service station, 403 South Lamine avenue, states he attended a movie show and on returning for the car found it missing. He informed the officers it was stolen. The car was practically ruined.

Harridge And Frick Plan 1943 Schedule

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—(P)—Will Harridge, president of the American League, said today he planned to meet with Ford Frick, president of the National League, in New York early next week to complete work on the new 1943 baseball schedules.

"Certain portions must be fitted because of cities having a team in each league," he said. "The April 21 starting date and the October 3 closing time made it necessary to work up an almost new draft."

Fort Worth, Tex. To Have Baseball

FORT WORTH, Tex., Jan. 12.—(P)—The fans, at least, want baseball this year, concludes Manager Rogers Hornsby of the Fort Worth Cats.

Starting his box seat sales campaign for next season, he called on 15 prospects and sold 15 boxes. That's almost a fourth of the total sold in last season's three-months drive.

The Cats led the Texas League in attendance in 1942.

No Third Baseman In Hall Of Fame

Collins of '90-'1911; Traynor of '20-'36; Have Been Suggested
BY JUDSON BAILEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(P)—Although baseball's hall of fame at Cooperstown has enshrined 26 of the games immortals, it still lacks a third baseman. This has caused various persons concern from time to time, but it finally has fired at least one man to action.

Bob Stedler Takes It Up
Bob Stedler, veteran sports editor of the Buffalo (N.Y.) Evening News, opened a formal campaign this week to bring about the election of his fellow townsman, James J. (Jimmy) Collins, famous third baseman of the 1890s and early 1900s.

In the opinion of Stedler, who has been writing sports for four decades, the comparative youngsters, who are now writing baseball and whose votes select the stars for places in the hall of fame, should have someone call their attention to the merits of a standout whom they never saw.

There being no logical objection to this, he has circulated all members of the Baseball Writers Association of America in recent days to point out Collins. The spotlight showed many qualifications.

Collins played 19 years in the big leagues — with the Boston Braves and Red Sox and the Philadelphia Athletics — and in Stedler's judgment revolutionized the art of guarding the "hot corner." While with the Boston Nationals he was the first third baseman to stop the deadly bunting game of the Baltimore Orioles, led by McGraw, Keeler and Jennings.

Leads Two Leagues
During his career he was the leading fielder at his position in both the National and American leagues and in five seasons he batted well over .300. In 1898, when his batting average was .337, he collected 15 home runs to lead the National League. They had a dead ball in those days.

Collins switched to the newly formed American League in 1901 as manager of the Red Sox and in 1903 ran away with the pennant. The Red Sox were so great that fans wanted to see them matched against the mighty Pittsburgh Pirates who had dominated the National League three straight years.

The result was the first world series and Collins' Sox won it after losing three of the first four games.

After ending his baseball career at Providence in the Eastern League in 1911, Collins settled down in Buffalo and is now employed by the city's park commission.

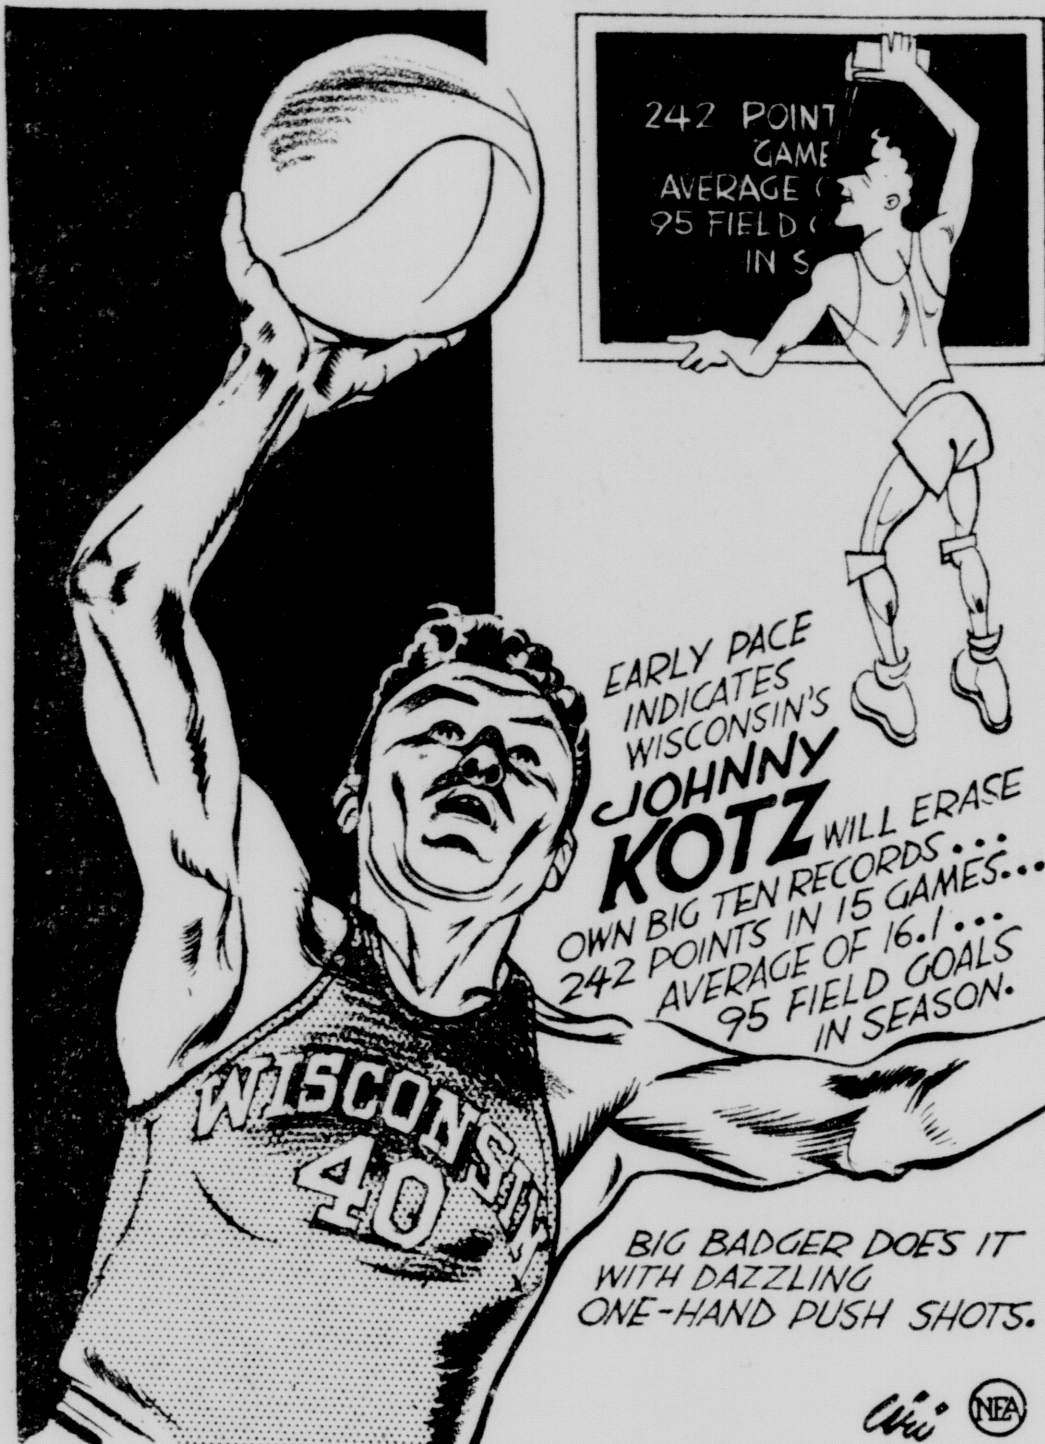

The case made out for Collins is a good one. Most of the younger writers, like this one, rate Harold (Pie) Traynor of the Pirates as the greatest third baseman they ever saw. Traynor was a star for 16 years and finished in 1936 with a lifetime batting average of .319.

To be elected to the hall of fame a player must have completed his active career and must poll 75 per cent of the total votes cast. The last man elected was Rogers Hornsby in the spring of 1942.

Sedalia Chapter No. 57 O. E. S. will meet in regular session Tuesday evening Jan. 12 at 7:30 o'clock. Visiting members welcome.

He Gets the Point

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—(P)—

George Corcoran, the Greensboro, N. C., golf pro, suggests that golf clubs should be classified as health clubs rather than as amusement centers now that easterners aren't allowed to use gas for amusement. . . . George figures that most golfers are hunting exercise and relaxation rather than entertainment. . . . Come to think of it, we've frequently heard "health" mentioned at the 19th hole—accompanied by a bending motion of the elbow that must provide a certain amount of exercise. . . . Gas rationing, too, is a reason why 88 fewer teams entered the Iowa State high school boys' basketball tournament this year, cutting the total to only 835. . . . Sports Editor H. Guy Moats of the Pontiac (Mich.) Daily Press claims the record for picking the bowl football games correctly. He not only called Georgia, Texas, Alabama, Tennessee, Second Air Force and the Eastern All Stars to win but even picked Texas College over Tuskegee.

Stopped In One

When the Maryland U. and Coast Guard Academy boxing teams clashed the other night, the coaches picked Eddie La Fond, whose Catholic U. team meets both later in the season, as the referee. . . . They figured it was a smart move because (A) Eddie is a good referee, and also works in pro fights, and (B) he wouldn't be able to do much scouting because he couldn't take notes while working.

Postman's Paragraph

Whitey Budrunas of Waukegan, Ill., former Marquette U. basketball player and player-coach in Lithuania in 1938-39, passes along a few observations about basketball as an international game. . . . After the Berlin Olympics, he says, the sport spread like wildfire in the Baltic states and Europeans were greatly impressed by American days of coaching and the sportsmanship of American players. . . . "I'd like to see someone champion the position of sports in the coming reorganization of Europe after this war," Whitey writes. "Basketball, with American-born boys teaching in the fathers' native countries would do wonders spreading our conception of sportsmanship."

Today's Guest Star

Bob Paulos, Alton (Ill.) Evening Telegraph: "Dolph Camilli's decision to remain on his California ranch is hardly anything new to talk about. The first baseman has been raising beefs as a Dodger for the past several seasons."

Service Dept.

The Jacksonville, Fla., Naval Air Station has cancelled its basketball schedule because Capt. John Dale Price, station commandant, decided it wasn't a good idea to use government transportation for games during the gas and rubber shortage. An intramural program will be substituted. . . . The "Tank Busters" of the 628th Tank Destroyer outfit, winners of the Camp Livingston, La., boxing tournament last year, are warming up for the Golden Gloves elimination at Camp Bowie, Tex.

Triple Talk

Before Wyoming's basketball team busted Rochester's long winning streak, there was a conference on rules. . . . Referee Buddy Baker was about the most puzzled person in the group when the Wyoming captain asked: "Daylight on the post?" . . . Then suddenly the daylight dawned on the referee. . . . "It was his way of asking that the defensive team should not be allowed to play the man in the pivot too close," Baker explained.

Horse Race Plan For Florida Fails

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 12.—(P)—A plan to run Miami's two horse race tracks on a co-operative basis fell through when officials of Hialeah and Tropical parks frowned on the proposal.

The idea, advanced yesterday by Allen T. Simmons of Akron, O., was to offer purses varying according to the betting volume, with horsemen donating their services in operating the plants.

Track officials pointed out that Florida's horse racing season did not collapse for lack of money, but because of the ban on pleasure driving. Therefore the proposal offered no solution to the problem, they said.

Seven members of the Missouri university basketball squad still are subject to draft and two of these have been already called for preliminary physical examination. Capt. Earl Stark heads the contingent in the navy reserve that includes Orrel Hahn, Ed Matheny, Walter Robinson, and Bob Teel. Roy Storm is in advanced R.O.T.C., and Jack House, Leon Bentley, and Stuart Finlayson are in the army's enlisted reserve corps.

Allies Lash Heavily From Air On Hitler's Forces

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Weather prospects in northern Tunisia for the next few weeks make any decisive ground action unlikely but southward a new phase of Anglo-American air attack is developing. This tends to support the view of the British air ministry that Hitler faces his 1943 campaigns with "the key of air supremacy" wrenched from his grasp on all fronts.

To supplement Anglo-American air attacks on axis forces in Tripolitania from the east, planes from Eisenhower's forces to the west are lashing at Nazi communications east of Tripoli. An aerial squeeze play to harass Rommel's rear guard facing the British 8th army is indicated. Whether Rommel intends to complete a further 300-mile westward retreat, abandoning Tripolitania entirely to man French-built defenses near the Libyan-Tunisian border, or stand and fight again eastward of that position still is uncertain.

There are many indications, however, that the weather in southern Tunisia is less of a handicap to allied action by air or on the ground than it is in the north. Allied east-west shuttle bombing on the southern sector British-American plan of action may be nearing fruition in that theater, perhaps a combined east-west ground attack, before the rains let up in the north to bring on the final struggles for Bizerte and Tunis.

The east-west allied air raids vividly illustrate Rommel's plight and they also lend color to the general summary by British authorities of the allied-axis air relationships.

Allies Build Planes Faster

The "inescapable and ominous fact" for Hitler, that British review said, was that his plane production had reached or passed its zenith while that of the allies was not yet at its peak. Less than 50 per cent of the Luftwaffe remained in Russia and it was out-matched by Russian plane production alone, without benefit of British-American ships delivered to Russia, it was said.

The remainder of Nazi air power is scattered in western Europe and the Mediterranean theater according to that British estimate, and has been so reduced in Norway to meet allied air attacks from all sides that an "effective offensive" against Russian-bound convoys and Murmansk and Archangel is impossible.

"The axis air force is being forced more and more to the defensive," the British review said. "There can be only one end to such a situation."

It is hardly to be doubted that lack of adequate Nazi combat planes in Russia has been a major contributing factor in Soviet offensive successes on the Don and Caucasus fronts. That is probably the prime element in the situation on the Russian front this winter that was not present a year ago. It strongly encourages Russian and allied hopes that the Rostov key to Hitler's southern flank can be mastered, confronting him with his greatest military disaster before the winter ends.

Even by Moscow versions of the Don-Caucasus battle, however, it seems obvious that the Nazi defense everywhere is stiffening, except for further German withdrawals from the depths of the Caucasus salient. With Russian investment of Georgievsk junction the Nazis apparently have withdrawn from a huge slice of territory, where they threatened the Grozny oil field and the roads to Baku. This territory measures roughly 60 miles in width and 75 or more in depth.
